IN A PRAIRIE LAND.

[Mditorial Correspondence.] Moose Jaw, Assinibofa.

Farmers' Review,

Chicago, July 22, 1903. Most of the prairies in the United States have ceased to exist. Man has broken them up with orchards, forests and farm buildings. But in Western Canada the prairies still stretch grandly from horizon to horison as yet unmarred by the hand of man, save where the iron road has been laid. To a city man there is something deliciously restful about the vast grassy solitudes.

stroys a new steamer at her dock in Numerous clumps of trees mark the course of the Assimbolne river, which keeps in sight of the railroad for some

"Grass is one of the notable things about all the landscape of Western Canada. It is a remarkable fact that the entire length of the Canadian Pacific railway from its eastern terminus to the Rocky Mountains is over plains where grass grows. The sage brush appears at some points, but never to the exclusion of grass. There is thus not a mile of this country that cannot be used for some agricultural purpose-either for tilling or ranch-

'Moose Jaw is a town of over 2,000 inhabitants, and one of the most important places in Assinibola, being the center of a very good farming country and a great grain and stock shipping point.

"Near Moose Jaw agriculture and anching go hand in hand; for near the town was seen a berd of beef cattle several hundred in number. On another side was seen a good sized herd of dairy cows, the property of the citizens in the town.

"In riding over the prairies we saw many good fields of alfalfa. The great need of the country is timber, which grows readily where planted, as was demonstrated by the shelter belts on some of the farms, and the trees on the residence lots in the town.

"Stories were told the writer of men who last year cleared from their wheat crop more than the land on which it was grown originally cost them. This is easy to believe, in view of the large crop and high price for wheat last year."-Henry F. Thurston.

TIMELY CALLING. How the Pastor Baved a Life. A man near Fort Gay, W. Va., made ra entire failure in getting strength from the kind of food he ate and not knowing that the trouble was with the food kept on losing health until the doctors gave him up to die. It was supposed to be consumption because he was wasting away stead ily and slowly dying. His minister called from time to time and one day brought along a package of Grape-Nuts, thinking from . what he knew of the famous food that perhaps it might help him. The sick man took to it at once and from that day began to get well. In writing he says:

"I walked to town to-day 3 miles. Have gained over 40 pounds in about 2 months and my neighbors don't know what to say. I frequently am told it was as if I am raised from the dead. Everybody here knows of my case, you can tell people to write to the Postmaster or Rev. L. D. Bryan. I will make a sworn statement that Grape-Nuts saved my life."
